

TEACHER BURNOUT AUDIT

10 honest questions to find out exactly where you stand

by Eshu Madaan

International Voice for Teachers & School Leaders Podcast Host · Trainer · Founder @skillsphereshh

This audit takes 5 minutes.

Answer honestly — not how you wish things were,
but how they actually are right now.

#teachersdeservebetter

How to use this audit

- 1 Read each question carefully
Don't overthink it — your first instinct is usually the most accurate answer.
- 2 Choose the option that best reflects the LAST 4 WEEKS
Not your best week, not your worst — your honest average.
- 3 Circle or note your score for each question (1–5)
Each option has a number. Some questions are reverse-scored — the scoring is done for you at the end.
- 4 Add up your total score out of 50
Use the scoring guide on the last page to find your result.
- 5 Read your result with self-compassion
This is not a judgement. It is a mirror — and awareness is always the first step to change.

Scoring scale for most questions:

1 = Never 2 = Rarely 3 = Sometimes 4 = Often 5 =
Always

Note: Questions 03 and 07 are reverse-scored. The scoring values shown on those questions already account for this — just use the numbers as printed.

The 10 questions

PHYSICAL ENERGY

01 How often do you feel physically exhausted by the time school ends?

Think about your energy levels on a typical school day — not just busy days.

1 Never	2 Rarely	3 Sometimes	4 Often	5 Always
-------------------	--------------------	-----------------------	-------------------	--------------------

My score for Q01: _____

EMOTIONAL DRAIN

02 How often do you feel emotionally drained after interactions with students or parents?

Notice if you need to 'recover' after conversations that should feel routine.

1 Never	2 Rarely	3 Sometimes	4 Often	5 Always
-------------------	--------------------	-----------------------	-------------------	--------------------

My score for Q02: _____

JOY & PURPOSE

03 How often do you feel genuinely excited or passionate about going to school?

This question is reverse-scored — feeling excited is a protective factor.

5 Never	4 Rarely	3 Sometimes	2 Often	1 Always
-------------------	--------------------	-----------------------	-------------------	--------------------

My score for Q03: _____

MENTAL LOAD

04 How often do school-related thoughts follow you home and interrupt your personal time?

This includes worrying about students, admin tasks, or tomorrow's lessons during evenings or weekends.

1
Never

2
Rarely

3
Sometimes

4
Often

5
Always

My score for Q04:

RECOGNITION

05 How often do you feel unseen, undervalued, or taken for granted at your school?

This includes both from leadership and from parents.

1
Never

2
Rarely

3
Sometimes

4
Often

5
Always

My score for Q05:

DETACHMENT

06 How often do you feel emotionally detached or 'switched off' inside the classroom?

Going through the motions without feeling connected to what you're teaching.

1
Never

2
Rarely

3
Sometimes

4
Often

5
Always

My score for Q06:

SUPPORT SYSTEM

07 How often do you feel you have someone — a colleague, mentor, or community — to openly share your struggles with?

Reverse-scored — having support is a key recovery resource.

5 Never	4 Rarely	3 Sometimes	2 Often	1 Always
------------	-------------	----------------	------------	-------------

My score for Q07:

SELF-CARE

08 How often do you neglect your own basic needs (sleep, meals, rest) because of school demands?

Think about the last two weeks — did school take over your personal recovery time?

1 Never	2 Rarely	3 Sometimes	4 Often	5 Always
------------	-------------	----------------	------------	-------------

My score for Q08:

BOUNDARY SETTING

09 How often do you find it difficult to say no to extra work, requests, or responsibilities at school?

Difficulty with boundaries is one of the earliest and most common burnout triggers.

1 Never	2 Rarely	3 Sometimes	4 Often	5 Always
------------	-------------	----------------	------------	-------------

My score for Q09:

10

How often do you think about leaving teaching or wonder if you made the right career choice?

This is a late-stage burnout signal — be honest with yourself here.

1

Never

2

Rarely

3

Sometimes

4

Often

5

Always

My score for Q10:

Calculate your score

Q01 Physical energy	_____
Q02 Emotional drain	_____
Q03 Joy & purpose	_____
Q04 Mental load	_____
Q05 Recognition	_____
Q06 Detachment	_____
Q07 Support system	_____
Q08 Self-care	_____
Q09 Boundary setting	_____
Q10 Future outlook	_____
TOTAL SCORE _____ / 50

Your result

10–20
Thriving

You are in a healthy place
Your energy, boundaries, and sense of purpose are largely intact. This is the ideal time to invest in yourself — not when you're running on empty. Use this season to build habits that protect your wellbeing long-term.
What to do: Keep a weekly self-check ritual. Join a teacher community to stay connected and intentional about your growth.

21–30
Early warning

Stress is building — act now
You're managing, but cracks are forming. You may notice tiredness that doesn't go away on weekends, or a quiet resentment creeping in. This is the most important zone to catch — small changes now prevent serious burnout later.
What to do: Identify your top 2 energy drains and set one boundary this week. Consider joining the Wellbeing Room community for peer support.

31–40

Burnout in progress

You need support — not just self-care tips

You are likely experiencing chronic exhaustion, emotional numbness, or a growing disconnection from why you became a teacher. This is real and valid — and it is reversible with the right support. You cannot pour from an empty cup.

What to do: Book a free discovery call with Eshu. The Breath Again workshop was built specifically for where you are right now.

41–50

Crisis point

Please reach out — you don't have to carry this alone

Your score indicates severe burnout. You may feel trapped, hopeless about teaching, or deeply detached from your students and yourself. This is not weakness — it is what happens when caring people are left without care. Recovery is possible, but it requires intentional, guided support.

What to do: Connect with Eshu directly for 1-on-1 coaching. Your wellbeing is not a luxury — it is the foundation of everything you give to others.

You deserve to be well.

Not just functional. Not just surviving.

If this audit showed you something important — the next step is not to ignore it.

Here is how Eshu can help you

Breathe Again Workshop

2-hour live online workshop for immediate burnout relief

■ 999

The Wellbeing Room

Monthly community — peer support, group calls, resources

■ 399 / 6 month

The Whole Teacher Course

4-week self-paced program to rebuild energy and purpose

■ 3,999

1-on-1 Coaching

Personalized 8–12 week coaching for deep Recovery (TOT programme, Growth Opportunities)

■ 15,000–30,000/month

Find Eshu Madaan

Instagram: @skillspherebyeshh

Podcast: Seedhi Baat Education

YouTube: youtube.com/@EshuMadaan

Community: #teachersdeservebetter

This audit is for personal reflection only and does not constitute professional mental health advice. If you are experiencing severe distress, please seek support from a qualified mental health professional.